The Essential Kafka The Castle

This collection is indeed the essential Kafka, as it collects The Trial, The Castle, Metamorphosis, In The Penal Colony, Letter To My Father and certain other stories. Almost all of these stories explore the feeling of existential anxiety, inadequacy and guilt, other than that there's also a bit of absurdity, moreover, they seem to be very person tales too.

The Castle is a 1926 novel by Franz Kafka. In it a protagonist known only as "K." arrives in a village and struggles to gain access to the mysterious authorities who govern it from a castle. Kafka died before he could finish the work, but suggested it would end with K. dying in the village, the castle notifying him on his death bed that his "legal claim to live in the village was not valid, yet, taking certain auxiliary circumstances into account, he was permitted to live and work there." Dark a

'K.': The Figure in the Castle - The New York Times

The Castle is Franz Kafka's most humanistic work, virtually the only one in which the protagonist forms continuous, close relationships with other characters, including love. As in many of his other works, the protagonist is on a quest for a goal that proves unattainable.

The Meaning of Meaning in Kafka's The Castle ...

The Castle is an unfinished novel—as Max Brod, Kafka's literary executor, observed, Kafka intended that K. should die exhausted by his futile efforts to gain access to and acceptance from the elusive, local authorities but that on his deathbed his character was finally to receive a permit to stay in the village—and it stands as testament to the Kafka's achievements that its unfinished state is in no way detrimental to its effectiveness.
